Editorial Policy

The Barnacle is a forum for ideas in the Lund community. Editorial policy is to print what people submit in their own voices as much as possible, respecting the paper's purpose of providing a forum for the community on things that matter to its members.

The Lund Community Society is comprised of community volunteers. No member of the Board of Directors receives a salary or wages.

EDITORIAL

By Ann Snow

Well Spring has finally arrived and it's not all doom and gloom. Housing starts and car sales are reportedly higher than expected so the recession is slowly coming to an end. But I'm happy just knowing the daffodils are up and the humming birds are back, flitting from feeder to feeder as they await the honeysuckle blooms.

We survived another stormy winter season and it's time to plant your garden unless, unlike me, you've already started. I never find the time but my mother is generous with her harvests so I'm lucky that way. She has such a green thumb. But I have other talents - somewhere!

So until the summer edition of The Barnacle, may your thumbs be green and your vegetables crisp.

ANSWER TO #13

Amazingly Simple Home Remedies!!

1. Avoid cutting yourself when slicing vegetables by getting someone else to hold the vegetables while you chop.
2. Avoid arguments with the females about lifting the toilet seat by using the sink.
3. For high blood pressure sufferers ~ simply cut yourself and bleed for a few minutes, thus reducing the pressure on your veins. remember to use a timer.
4. A mouse trap placed on top of your alarm clock will prevent you from rolling over and going back to sleep after you hit the snooze button.
5. If you have a bad cough, drink a quart of prune juice, you'll be afraid to cough.
6. You only need two tools in life - wd-40 and duct tape. if it doesn't move and should, use the wd-40. if it shouldn't move and does, use the duct tape.
7. If you can't fix it with a hammer, you've got an electrical problem.

SPORTS DAY IN LUND

By Sandy Dunlop

On Saturday, May 2, from 10 a.m. to 2-ish, the Lund Community Society will host its fifth annual Sports Day and community potluck to feed all the hungry participants and spectators. Everyone is welcome. Everything is free, although donations to the Society are always appreciated.

We'll begin by distributing players among the traditional teams of Chinooks, Eagles, and Cougars. Since teams are made up of kids of all ages, it's most fun if we get a good mix of younger and older children. Adults are even welcome to join, and are often pulled in to balance out teams.

Then we'll start the races. Events will be relay or a cooperatively competitive style, including the shoe-pile search, the dress-up relay, and the faulty tower construction, just to name a few, and we're planning some new activities for this year. Ribbons will be generously awarded.

Get ready to exercise those smile muscles! By the end of the day, your face may hurt just watching the extreme cuteness of the little kids and the hilarious antics of the older ones. It's a real hoot and a wonderful community gathering. This is an outdoor event, so it is somewhat weather dependant. Let's plan on sunshine!

COAST GUARD

By Ann Snow

The Coast Guard was in the Lund Harbour in March to realign the buoy which marks the rock hazard in the harbour. This needs to be done regularly because the anchor shifts with the tides and storms. Otherwise the buoy would not accurately depict where the hazard lies.

Birth Announcements

A baby boy, named Kellan, was born to Misty Gleave and Mike Brown on March 13th. Two belated birth announcements: a baby girl, named McKenzie Raven, was born to Hayley Creasey and Mike Luaifoa on November 6th; and a baby boy named Hayden was born December 8th to Michelle Scott and Jamie Morrison. Welcome to Lund, little ones, and congratulations moms and dads.

Sympathy and Condolences

On February 21st, Kari-Ann Farrell suddenly passed away at the tender age of 40 years old. Our sincere condolences to longtime partner, Tom Heins, and daughters Liliana and Georgina.

Lund lost another of its longtime residents on March 10th with the passing of Karl Larson. Our deepest condolences to the Larson family and to his close friends.

Goodwill Committee Spring 2009 Report

In the last three months, the Goodwill Committee sent cards to five community members, expressing our congratulations for new baby arrivals, get well wishes and thoughts, and sympathy and condolences to family members of those who have departed.

Starting soon, we are going to be welcoming new residents to Lund with a letter from the Goodwill Committee and a free issue of the Barnacle, available at the Lund Post Office.

The Goodwill Committee of the Lund Community Society exists to nurture a sense of community in Lund by acknowledging and sharing important events in people's lives and letting them know that we care. It's only possible to contact those people we hear about, so please call Sandy at (604) 483-2395 with any news you think should be acknowledged.

Mile 0 Marker Project

By Ann Snow

Lund is proclaiming its status as Mile 0 of the Pacific Coastal Highway, one of the longest highways in the world. At the other end of the road is a similar fishing village called Quellon, in the region of Porto Monte in Chile.

A Mile 0 marker will be built in the bus turn-around circle across from the Lund Hotel. It will stand approximately 10ft high with a 3ft square base. It will be faced with stonework and durable "Mile 0" signs making it both permanent and maintenance-free. Also it will contain a 2009 time capsule.

Funds to cover the cost of this project are being raised by the Lund Community Society. For a small fee, personalized tiles will be embedded around the base of the marker. All contributions are considered donations and a tax receipt will be issued.

To this end, parking will no longer be available in this area. We appreciate everyone's cooperation in this regard.

Karl V Larson

December 2, 1922 – March 10, 2009

To all who have noticed the flag flying at half-mast over the far point on Murray Road, please know it marks the passing of one of Lund's most senior citizens.

Our fisher friend Karl passed away on March 10th just as the sun was sinking in the west. For a troller an approaching sunset signals the time to head for a safe harbour. Last Tuesday it signaled the end of a life well lived. Although we are saddened by our loss we are also uplifted by the fact that Karl left us just as he would have wanted.

Without pain, without fuss and in the company of good friends. As Karl requested he will be laid quietly to rest near his beloved mother.

Karl was born and bred on the BC coast and his mind was a treasure box full of history and adventure. It was like stepping back in time to sit by his fire and thrill to tales as fine and exciting as those told in best-selling novels.

Karl did not want a formal service but, in his honour, please take a minute to show someone a simple act of kindness. In his last years, when the pressures of a hard career had lessened, Karl delighted in thinking of little ways to help and treat others. It was lovely to watch and a lesson well learned. Kindness inspires kindness.

Thank you to the doctors and nurses whose care and patience provided much needed support during a difficult journey. And a very special thank-you to Ann, Ron, Deirdre, Neil, Kimberly, Harry and Cat. If everyone was blessed with friends like you the world would shine far more brightly.

IT FLOATS (from front cover)

By Harry Robertson

One sunny afternoon in early March, with a brisk westerly blowing, a strange site appeared coming down Thulin Passage. It was a weathered trawler using a makeshift bridle to tow a rather large dilapidated floathouse.

Seeking shelter they altered course for Lund. There were only two crew: a skipper aboard the trawler and a deckhand on the tow. After a long series of commands and replies yelled back and forth (goodness, I had no idea how many four letter nautical terms there were nor how often they had to be repeated at the top of one's lungs) the rig was brought alongside the northerly breakwater.

This did not afford enough protection so they decided to enter the harbour. Surely the floathouse was too wide but to my amasement the ungainly assemblage was brought in without a touch. A bit more delicate manouvering with the help from a puff of offshore breeze nestled the floathouse gently up against the inside of the southerly breakwater where she lay for three days until calm seas permitted the tow to continue on to her destination in Comox.

I am told in years gone past large structures frequently were towed in to our harbour but this was a first for me. I marvelled at the skill of the trawler skipper. It was a real feat of seamanship bringing that large awkward structure in without so much as a scratch.

MILE 0 MARKER PROJECT

The community of Lund is building a "Mile 0" marker at the location of the beginning/end of Highway 101.

Mile 0 launches the initial leg of the Pacific Coastal Highway, one of the longest highways in the world, which ends in southern Chile, approximately 15,202km from Lund.

Through the Lund Community Society, permits have been acquired and funds are being raised for this historic marker which will be located in the centre of the bus turnaround circle between Dave's Parking and the Lund Hotel.

Tile Prices

5½" x 5½" for $125

7½" x 5½" for $145

Quantities are limited.

The marker is designed to be 10ft tall, permanent and require no maintenance. It will be constructed of cement and surfaced with split rock. Bollards will delineate the marker for the safety of visitors who will come to Lund to take photos of this unique structure.

This is your opportunity to become a part of history. To raise funds for the "Mile 0" marker, the Lund Community Society is selling handpainted ceramic tiles to be embedded into the step around the base of the marker.

Forms are available at SunLund By-The-Sea, the Lund Hotel front desk, Nancy's Bakery, and the Lund Harbour office, or visit www.lundbc.ca, "Events".

The Financial Crisis Explained In Simple Terms

Heidi is the proprietor of a bar. In order to increase sales, she decides to allow her loyal customers - most of whom are unemployed alcoholics - to drink now but pay later. She keeps track of the drinks consumed on a ledger (thereby granting the customers loans).

Word gets around and as a result increasing numbers of customers flood into Heidi's bar.

Taking advantage of her customers' freedom from immediate payment constraints, Heidi increases her prices for wine and beer, the most-consumed beverages. Her sales volume increases massively.

A young and dynamic customer service consultant at the local bank recognizes these customer debts as valuable future assets and increases Heidi's borrowing limit.

He sees no reason for undue concern since he has the debts of the alcoholics as collateral.

At the bank's corporate headquarters, expert bankers transform these customer assets into DRINKBONDS, ALKBONDS and PUKEBONDS. These securities are then traded on markets worldwide. No one really understands what these abbreviations mean and how the securities are guaranteed. Nevertheless, as their prices continuously climb, the securities become top-selling items.

One day, although the prices are still climbing, a risk manager (subsequently of course fired, due his negativity) of the bank decides that slowly the time has come to demand payment of the debts incurred by the drinkers at Heidi's bar.

However they cannot pay back the debts. Heidi cannot fulfill her loan obligations and claims bankruptcy.

DRINKBOND and ALKBOND drop in price by 95 %. PUKEBOND performs better, stabilizing in price after dropping by 80 %.

The suppliers of Heidi's bar, having granted her generous payment due dates and having invested in the securities are faced with a new situation. Her wine supplier claims bankruptcy, her beer supplier is taken over by a competitor.

The bank is saved by the Government following dramatic round-the-clock consultations by leaders from the governing political parties.

The funds required for this purpose are obtained by a tax levied on the non-drinkers.

Finally . . . an explanation I understand.
